WIRELESS SAYS MRS. SPRECKELS MAY WED AGAIN

Divorce Made Final This Morning, Plans for Wedding This Afternoon; Governor Invited

A wireless message received by the Star-Bulletin this morning to the effect that Judge Graham of San Francisco has affixed his signature to the decree of divorce secured by Mrs. Edith Spreckels against J. D. Spreckels, Jr., son of the California capitalist, as well as private messages of a like nature, have paved the way for the speedy marriage of Mrs. Spreckels and Franklin W. Wakefield, the prominent San Francisco real estate man.

Mrs. Spreckels and Mr. Wakefield were to be married between 3 and 4 o'clock this afternoon. A license was issued yesterday by "Cupid" Palmer P. Woods. The ceremony was to be performed by Police Judge J. M. Monsarrat in his office at the police station, a personal friend of the couple said today.

The couple will leave for Hilo tomorrow morning on a brief honeymoon. They will visit the volcano and return to Honolulu in time to catch the steamer Mongolia for the Orient, according to a statement given the Star-Bulletin by Mrs. Spreckels this morning.

Mr. Wakefield volunteered the information that he has received several telegrams from San Francisco, but said that they were of a private nature and that he could not make them public. It is believed that they have to do with the signing of Mrs. Spreckels' divorce decree.

Both Mrs. Spreckels and Mr. Wakefield would talk very little regarding the plans for the wedding. They said no definite time had been set for the ceremony and that they had not decided upon who should marry them.

The time of the wedding, and the fact that Judge Monsarrat will perform the ceremony, was ascertained late this afternoon.

An intimate friend of Mrs. Spreckels and Mr. Wakefield informed the Star-Bulletin that Governor Pinkham has been invited to attend the wedding, and replied that he will be present if the affairs of his office are not too pressing.

The other witness will be A. Prausnitz, a personal friend of Mr. Wakefield.

DOWSETT LANE SCARED

AT MAN THOUGHT TO BE

MUCH-WANTED YEE KEUK

Charley Kekapa got all the benefits of Yee Keuk's bloodthirsty reputation as a gun-man this morning, when residents living at the end of Dowsett Lane, turned in a hurry call for the police, believing Charley to be the Korean "bad man" now at large.

They were terrorized by Kekapa's actions. The man had been sleeping under one of the street railway company's houses at the end of Dowsett Lane for the last two weeks, and someone this morning became possessed of the idea that he was the much-wanted Korean.

Everyone held their breath, expecting a shower of bullets. Kekapa looked so desperate. On the arrival of a patrol wagon full of police, Charley seemed grateful and entered the wagon in a manner meek as Mary's lamb. He was lodged in the city jail and a charge of vagrancy placed against him. Officer Lili is given credit for the arrest.

Light Sidelights on Police Court Scenes

Patrolman Huihui acted as adjuster and peacemaker last night after being called to Emma and Beretania streets in answer to a report that the automobile of Dr. William Daniel, crossing Beretania street from Emma to Union street, had been struck amidsips by a machine driven by Lieut.-col. F. P. Reynolds. Col. Reynolds' car was going Ewa on Beretania. Dr. Daniel and the colonel were discussing the accident amid a crowd of spectators when Huihui arrived. Reynolds put the question of which of the drivers had the right of way up to the policeman and Huihui informed him that Dr. Daniel had the right of way, whereupon Col. Reynolds insisted that he be allowed to pay for the small damage to the physician's car.

Interest in the welfare of Yee Yo Keuk, Korean "bad man" who escaped August 5 from the city jail in broad daylight, and who has not yet been caught, was revived at police headquarters today. Sheriff Rusa, Harbor Officer Carter and Chautau's Examiner Lillis held an impromptu convention to consider the Keuk case this noon.

"He's hanging off the island in a sampan," ventured the sheriff.

"Sure, that's right," agreed Carter; "I know it must be. A man can stay in those sampans for weeks at a time. I remember once two marines here escaped in a sampan and could have got to Frisco if they knew how to run the gasoline engine. The boat had three weeks' supply of grub on board."

"Maybe McGrath and Bartlett are out with him?" someone else volunteered.

"Sure thing," replied the sheriff in deep irony.

Detectives Silva and David Hau "spotted" a lottery ticket protruding from the pocket of a Hawaiian youth at Kukui and School streets this noon and they started to make an arrest. However, the young man was quicker than the officers and he swallowed the ticket, thus destroying the evidence. So there was nothing for the detectives to do but turn him loose, which they did.

DR. J. J. CAREY left this morning in the Matsonia to attend the dental congress in San Francisco and visit at various places in the states.

LATIN AMERICAN COINS ARE MADE IN AMERICA NOW

Uncle Sam's Money Factories
Turning Out Tokens for the States of South America

"Made in the United States" might in all truth be stamped on the coins of nearly a dozen of the countries of Latin America in which a shopper would try in vain to buy merchandise bearing that slogan. For though the United States does not ship great amounts of goods to the countries between the Rio Grande river and Cape Horn, it does supply them with a large part of their money; and this, in spite of the Spanish phrases and foreign emblems that it bears, is the product of Uncle Sam's own mints.

The United States government, unknown to many of its citizens, who can hardly be expected to know all of its statutes by heart, the Washington Star kindly admits, was authorized by law more than forty years ago to engage in the business of minting money for foreign countries. Under this authorization the government has turned out millions of foreign coins in its big money-making establishments.

Money Factories Busy.
Just now, according to Robert W. Woolley, director of the mint, the bulk of the work being done in the mints is either under contract for one of our neighbors to the South, or for the Philippines, our foster government across the Pacific. Aside from the mere matter of the demand of the countries for minting services, the concentration on foreign work at this time arises from the fact—however strange it may appear to the average man or woman—that we now have more money in circulation in the United States. This is indicated by the fact that there are on deposit in the treasuries and sub-treasuries approximately $26,000,000 in subsidiary silver coins, pieces of less value than one dollar. Such coins are minted solely for use in circulation, and are not ordinarily held as stocks, like silver dollars, against which paper certificates are issued.

The minting work for foreign countries now under way in the United States is being done at Philadelphia for Cuba, Salvador, Ecuador and Costa Rica. The San Francisco mint is at work chiefly on Philippine coinage. Only at the Denver mint is domestic work solely under way, and there only nickels and one-cent pieces are being turned out.

Millions of Gold Pieces.
Since the authorization to coin money for foreign countries was given to the mints by Congress in January, 1874, more than 100,000,000 pieces of gold, silver and base metals have been minted for countries in North, South and Central America and the West Indies, and for Hawaii before its annexation.

All foreign minting by the United States is done at a price that just covers the cost. There are two reasons for the government engaging in the business; it puts this country in a position to do neighborly acts and it allows us to keep our coining equipment and force of operatives busy during periods when it would otherwise be necessary to suspend operations. The decreasing need for mints with our vast accumulations of coins, the growth of banking and the use of paper money is shown by the fact that of the seven mints that have been in existence in the history of the country only three are now equipped for turning out coins, the others having been either abandoned or turned into assay offices.
